

Mia-Platform listed in the Developer Awards 2024

United Kingdom, December 2024 – Innovation in Business Magazine nominates Mia-Platform among the winners of The Developer Awards 2024.

Upon the eve of the announcement, Awards Coordinator Melissa Bramall shared her thoughts on the success of the brand new programme and its winners: "As we pride ourselves on the validity and integrity of our awards, we're incredibly proud to present the winners of The Developer Awards 2024. Bolstered by their core values and ambition missions, our awardees have been recognised for their steadfast approach to altering their spheres. It has been an honour to highlight their success in this year's inaugural programme. Congratulations again."

The Developer Awards is here to showcase a fine selection of businesses and individuals improving web development from every angle. Utilising Artificial Intelligence (AI), Progressive Web Applications (PWAs), and Voice User Interfaces (VUIs), and so much more, our winners are staying at the very cutting-edge of the integral industry.

We have evolved to a point where digitalisation is a must, for any business. As business continues to morph and change, we rely on companies such as our winners to support, empower, and market us effectively and professionally across the corporate landscape. From sustainable open-source web design to rapid application development, and more, a diverse plethora of offerings can be seen throughout our prestigious publication and esteemed winners list. We invite you to peruse our awardee's services and solutions to find out more about how they can help us in the digital age.

"Being recognised as a winner of The Developer Awards 2024 is an incredible honour" comments Federico Soncini Sessa, CEO at Mia-Platform. This award reflects the dedication of our team and our commitment to empowering businesses with innovative digital solutions. At Mia-Platform, we strive to drive progress in web development and digital transformation, and this recognition inspires us to continue pushing the boundaries of what's possible in our industry."
