

Fides and Mia-Platform Partner to Accelerate Digital Transformation

Milan, 30 September 2025 – Fides, a European technology company dedicated to accelerating business growth through advanced digital solutions, has officially joined the Mia-Platform Partner Network. This collaboration aims to accelerate digital transformation by combining Mia-Platform's developer platform with Fides' specialized consulting and deep domain expertise.

Through this partnership, Fides and Mia-Platform aim to accelerate digital transformation across a wide range of industries. By joining forces, the two companies will provide organizations with end-to-end solutions that drive innovation, improve performance, and increase operational efficiency.

"Through our partnership with Mia-Platform, we combine our expertise with a market-leading solution, creating synergies that enable us to drive business growth, enhance performance, and deliver greater value to our customers. This collaboration not only strengthens our technological capabilities but also helps organizations accelerate the modernization of software delivery", comments Antonio Caccioppi, CTO at Fides.

The combined solution will also focus on enabling enterprises to navigate technological complexity by facilitating the integration of diverse IT systems and supporting multi-stack environments. This will ensure greater agility, scalability, and interoperability across even the most complex organizational structures.

"We're excited to welcome Fides to the Mia-Platform Partner Network. Their strong consulting capabilities and know-how perfectly align with our mission to accelerate digital transformation through modern, scalable architectures. This partnership will empower organizations to build flexible, high-performing digital ecosystems tailored to their business goals", says Francesco Soncini Sessa, Head of Strategic Alliances at Mia-Platform.

Together, Fides and Mia-Platform are committed to delivering future-ready digital solutions that help businesses innovate faster, scale smarter, and stay competitive in today's dynamic market landscape.
